Dayton-Phoenix Group Receives TPG Accreditation

January 9, 2017

Dayton, Ohio - Dayton-Phoenix Group (DPG) announced today that its West Lafayette manufacturing facility has achieved Transportation and Power Generation (TPG) accreditation. “We are very pleased to be recognized for attaining the TPG Welding accreditation,” stated Ed Roll, Quality Assurance Manager at DPG West Lafayette. “To achieve this status was a real team effort by all.”

The goal of the TPG program is to improve the manufacturing process control and performance for components considered critical by our OEM customers. “This certification, along with our ISO 9001-2008 and the Association of American Railroads Certification QA Program M-1003, further differentiates us in the market place by offering products and services that meet the industry’s highest quality standards,” stated Gale Kooken, President of Dayton-Phoenix Group.
